the Beard of Commissioners and my self;

flagrantly unjust and at variance with the fact that I am at this trouble, to deny Pict and Beaufort the finest he ever saw. them, assert to the contrary, and stand young person was with him, who appeared with proof of what I shall say. Mr. Town Creek says the expenses for running the Poor House for the year endiag 1875, were $10.810. 74. The gentleman's mathematical powers have I fear deserted him, for I have proof, that the expense for conducting, not only the Poor House in its various ramifications, but the Insane Asylum also, for both these Institutions for the period he names-was only $6,415,10. This includes all expenses there, in which is embraced several hundreds of dollars paid for furniture and apparatus to the Insane Asylum the purchase being rendered necessary, to secure the protection and comfort of the tion the Asylum in any one of his campaign communications. When it is we'll known here and in many parts of the State, that such an institution does exist in suc cessful operation, which has necessarily increased the county expenditures, but which is a blessing to this class of citizens and an honor to Edgecombe county. It is Dr. A. B. Nobles, Capt. Fred. Phillikewise well known to those who will not view things with a jaundiced eye, that it costsmore absolutely, to support 1 lunatic, than I ordinary pauper for same time. Why? Because of their propensity to tear and destrey blankets, clothing, furniture &c, and the absolute necessity of hiring nurses and keepers for them.

The Poor House, too, as regards its reputation for comfort, cleanliness neatness, discipline &c. has become widely known. Eminent Jurists, Divines, Priests, gentlemen of the Press and citizens, have visited here and all, without exception have done the Commissioners justice in landing the management inaugurated and perpetuated by them. By order of the worshipful Board of Commissioners, the inmates here are well cared for, well fed, well clothed, properly nursed, and, the percentage of deaths being small, must be judiciously dosed with drugs. If I was asked -- could these institutions be conducted somewhat more cheaply? I say unhesitatingly. Yes. But to do so would deprive these poor creatures of many comforts and necessities They are thrown on the cold charities of the world, unable to help themselves; the Board of Commissioners has proved itself their friend. I believe it will se continue. The correspondent wants the Board of Commissioners to require of me "a monthly statement &c." Now Sir during a period months I have not failed to Report to the Commissioners every month, (under a forments, the no. inmates at beginning of menth, no. admitted, no: d'ed, discharged, descried &c. and the no. remaining. My next monthly Report will show that one of the paupers here a colored man-deserted, on Saturday last, and I shall await the action of the Commissioners as to the disposal of his case, as I always do in the case of those who leave here without my knowledge and against my consent. The monthly Reports w'll further show that each pauper and lunatic receives. that each pauper and lunatic receives, each and every week, (and by order of the Commissioners,) 8 pounds of flour or meal, to the grand old ship of Democracy, Hewitt has gained many friends for his mas-3 pounds meat, 1 pint melasses, 1 pint sugar, 1 piut coffee and 1 plug tobacco. Soap and vinegar in proper quantities, and rice to the sick. The articles of sugar, coffee and tobacco were first issued by the Board of Commissieners, in authority, four years ago. This Board before passing such order, first consulted some of the largest tax payers of Edgecombe county, who adviced it. And now this hue and cry is raised by politicians for "buncombe" only. There has been no "reckless waste of hard earned money."

Town Creek says I "either neglect my duties or am incompetent." As to the first, sir, two different Boards of Commissioners have approved my dilligence; as to the latter, the institutions here are improving, progressing, and not retrograding. And as to my medical reputation that is well known to gentlemen of your party who are not so biased and radical, and who themselves choose my professional services, a reputation which was established-I can say without arrogancein the dark days of the terrible war when brave men met in deadly strife at the T. C. says I am "paid $100 per month; true, in county orders. That I "am furnished with house and lot &c .. " Certainly Shall I camp out? Yes, sir, this is so, and in accordance with a contract, Mr. Town Creek, with your superiors in office, and with mine, v.z. the Beard of Commissioners of Edgecombe county. But he says of goods. that "$529.13 is paid to physicians and for medicines for prisoners and paupers, other CLOTHING, WHIPS, &c., &c.

The late rains have greatly improved the arm I to carry out my part of the contract, arm I to carry out my part of the contract, be gathered.

The late rains have greatly improved the arm I to carry out my part of the contract, arm I to carry out my part of the contract, be gathered. How foolish? But that any part of that amount (" the amount be correct,) went to pay any other physician for services which was employed to do, is not correct, and defy proof to the centrary. That other Physicians visited and prescribed for them is no doubt so ; but Sir: it is not a part of my duties to do the entire jail practice. It is stipulated between Commissioners and myself-and that only since September 1874, that I shall attend the sick at the jail two days in the week if call ed o. "to do so," I have obeyed every summons, and if the gentleman will ask the court-ous and efficient Phatmacent at Dr. McNairs drug Store, he will be shown from the prescription file many of my prescriptions for prisoners in jail. That other Physicians received fees for giving certificates in cases of Lunatics, once every year, is likewise true, but no fault of mine, the law, (passed by a democratic Legislature) requires the certificate in cases of Insaneof "two practicing Physicians, I always sign as one without extra charge. Another M. D. must sign, and he receives $5. That's the difference,-"Shake not thy gory locks at me." The law was not of my making, or of the Board of Commissioners. I deny emphatically, and unreservedly, Poor House, (except the certificates of Lunatics) during the last 3 years,-and dely contradictory proof. Drs. Instead of $10,810.74, cents expended ere, there were only $6,415.10, expended ncluding the hire of all employees for both Institutions, Poor House and Asylum,much of which was required to fit out the Insane Asylum, in such manner as to be comfortable and secure to the lunatics; the apparatus for heating the building alone. costing several hundreds of dollars, and certainly you will agree that hot air was necessarv. Our New York Letter.

NEW YORK, Aug., 18th, 1876 POLITICAL GOSSI".

EDITOR SOUTHERNER :- One of the principal topics of conversation to-day, among all classes of the community, is the adjournment of Congress. The Democratic party has taken such a decided stand in this campaign, and the people are so thoroughly tired of the machinations of the Grant administration, that the achievements of the session of Congreas just brought to a close, are receiving a very close inspection. The Democrats were given control of the House of Representatives on the faith of the pledges which they gave for a purification of the Government and a reduction of our financial burdens. They are now before the country, asking for an extension for their power, and the people naturally ask the question whether they have ed the work which they undertook to per-

On all hands, except from those whose strong Republican prejudices render them incapable of seeing good in any hing that proceeds from a Democratic source, is heard Southerner. Although you have dubbed me appreciation and commendations for what "lillipution," yet remember that David did has been effected. The House has had such gigantic difficulties to overcome, especially at the hands of a Republican Senate and Executive, who were determined to obstruct their every step towards a realization of its purposes, that it has not been able to finish in the intended imanner all it becan. It set out with the determination not on'y to expore corruption, but to punish those against whom crime could be established. In the former part of its task it has succeed ed better than is gratifying to any well-wisher of his country; in the latter it has too of and colored citizens of this and ad- ten been thwarted by the interested in office Notably was this the case in the Belknap impeachment trial. The ex-Secretary of not only confessed his crimes, but on his lips and H. C. Bourne, Esq. To trial they were conclusively proved against him; yet he escaped the equitable and legal consequences of his misdeeds, by an acceptance, at the hands of the President, of his resi mation, after he had admitted his guilt and the subsequent refusal of the Senate to convict, because he had eeased to be a servant of the people. In the same manner has been met every at-tempt to reduce the expenditures of the Government. In almost every department of the service was it found that the sums appropriated for their maintenance were far in ex-cess of what was required for the efficient onducting of their operations. Every means was therefore tried by the House, to relieve the people of the unnecessary burden, and by every device were endeavors made by the Senate to frustrate the design. The contrast presented by the two branches of the Legisature is so marked as to have arrested the attention of all who have paid attention to their proceedings. In all its actions the House has evinced a desire to promote the welfare of the public, while the Sen te has placed obstacles all along its road, and, with utter disregard to the well-being of the nation supporting men who were stealing has concentrated its energies upon a continuance of Grantism, as the prime element of official procedure. That, under these circular transfer of the prime element of official procedure. do it no longer. Let's rise up in cumstances, the House has achieved so much, one solid phalanx and hurl them is well regarded by the people, and a dispofrom their places of power, and install therein men who, instead of degrading us, will be an honor to degrading us, will be an honor to free from the embarrassments and hinderanthe once glorious old Edgecombe. ces with which it has had to contend during the Republican members of both branches of the Legislature to make the chambers in which they meet a political campaign ground and should be proud. His speech too was interspersed with facts and the small comfort and advantage which
